NUMISMATIST

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, U. S. A.

To Avoid Mistakes Misunderstanding and Disappointment Please Remember

First of all that I do my utmost to make your dealings with me pleasant and profitable to you, but to do so I must have YOUR co-operation.

In Bidding

PLEASE REMEMBER that bids are at so much EACH PIECE, regardless of the number of pieces in a lot. If a lot contains 10 pieces and you want to pay, say $1.50 for the lot, make your bid 15c, and so on.

Each lot is sold entirely--No lot is broken under any circumstances. So do not make bids for certain pieces of a lot. Also, no lump bid for a certain number of lots can be entertained. In other words, if there are five or ten lots that you want, it is necessary that you make a separate bid for each lot.

If there is any part of the auction business--either in buying or selling--that is not entirely clear to you, do not hesitate to write me for further information. Remember that I am in the business to serve you satisfactorily.

Cordially yours,

P. S.

I charge no commission for executing bids--and I deserve no thanks for this.

Consignment of Practically

UNCIRCULATED U. S. CENTS.

A Pair of Beautiful 1793s.

581 1793 Chain. Crosby 3-C. AMERICA. The letters of the legend irregular in size and position. The R is large, high and leaning to right. The short lock nearest the angle of the neck-line points at the figure 1. A trifling nick between ER in Liberty, otherwise it is free from any nicks or dents. Is well struck and perfectly centered. I unhesitatingly grade it as extremely fine, and feel confident that the faint marks of circulation are due only to cabinet friction. A pretty medium olive surface. Very rare, and in this choice condition, quite a prize.

582 1793 Wreath, vine and bars on edge. Crosby 6-F. No period after Liberty and date. The head is in bold relief with hair in heavy locks. Letters of legend are large; the date is also large, widely spaced and nearer the point of the bust than to the hair. This is one of the rarest dies of this variety. A pin-point nick at point of bust. Practically uncirculated, well struck and centered, with beautiful medium olive surface. A gem of the highest order. Extremely rare.

583 1812 Small date. Extremely fine, reddish olive; iridescent surface due to an old cleaning. Very choice, and as such rare.

584 1816 Variety with broken edge extending from 8th to 13th star. Unc., mint red, turning to light olive. Rare so choice.

585 1816 Variety as last. Unc., strong impression and perfectly centered. A very pretty even red olive surface.

586 1816 Another variety as last. Unc., mint red.

587 1817 13 stars, spaced 1 8 17. Faint die break connecting first 3 stars on left. Unc., mint red turning to olive.

588 1817 13 stars. Variety with long point to first star on right, and ATES on Rev. connected. Unc., mint red, partly olive.

589 1817 15 stars. Extremely fine, has been cleaned, but now turned to a beautiful olive surface. Very choice and rare.

590 1818 Perfect die on obverse. UNITED connected at top with die break. About Unc., dark olive.

591 1818 Stars and date connected. Unc. Very pretty reddish purple surface.

596 1819 over '18 Large date. Unc., medium olive. Well struck and perfectly centered.

597 1819 Small date. Unc., mint red. Perfectly centered.

598 1820 Large date, stars close and connected with date. Unc., bright mint red.

Here Are a Few of Many Opinions Expressed about the Star Coin Encyclopedia by Men who KNOW

FROM PROF. T. L. COMPARETTE,

Curator of the United States Mint Collection.

"I have inspected with a great deal of care and a great deal of interest the Star Coin Encyclopedia. You have done an excellent piece of work and produced a catalogue that will be of real value." T. L. COMPARETTE.

FROM MEMBER OF UNITED STATES ASSAY COMMISSION.

"I am in receipt of a copy of the Star Coin Encyclopedia, of which I am very well pleased. This volume cannot help making a big hit. It is surely the right idea and will fill a long-felt need. It will make a very interesting and profitable guide. I heartily commend such a publication to all inquirers."

WALDO C. MOORE,
Member U. S. Assay Commission, and General Secretary of the American Numismatic Association.

FROM THE "NUMISMATIST"

Official Organ of the American Numismatic Association.

"The Star Coin Encyclopedia of 1912 is certainly the most pretentious work of its kind that has come to our notice. This book shows 2000 illustrations of the coins of all countries and periods. The work numbers 206 pages, is handsomely printed, and a credit to its publisher.'

"As I glance through the pages of the Star Coin Encyclopedia I am impressed with the great deal of care that has been given to its preparation and with the value of the work. I consider it remarkable that such a valuable reference book with so many illustrations can be produced at the low price of $1." WILLARD O. WYLIE, Managing Editor, Mekeel-Severn-Wylie Co., Boston.

"Have received the Star Coin Encyclopedia. I regard it as a valuable edition, and have no doubt that I can direct numerous requests to you for same." WILLIAM A. ASHBROOK,
(United States Congressman. Member Board of Governors A. N. A.)

"My copy of the 7th edition of the Star Coin Encyclopedia received. Am pleased to note that all U. S. Coins commanding a premium are listed to date. The catalogue is well printed throughout and profusely illustrated, by plates and otherwise, and the information relating to different issues, together with the articles of Numismatic interest, make it not only a catalogue but a valuable work of reference and well worth the price asked."

W. F. CLENDENIN,
Cashier First National Bank, Sparta, Ill.

A Few More Opinions about the Star Coin Encyclopedia

"I am in receipt of the new Star Coin Encyclopedia. This book appears to me to be far and away the best of the kind I have seen. It contains a lot of information, and the numerous cuts, so well executed, make it a valuable reference book."

W. C. EATON,
Commodore United States Navy.

"Received the Star Coin Book. I think it is the best coin book out."

RICHARD LAMBERT,
(Masonic Grand Sec'y of the State of Louisiana.)

"The Star Coin Encyclopedia shows careful preparation and reflects great credit on its author. It hardly seems possible that so much numismatic information can be given in a book of its size. I consider it the best coin book for its price on the market."

SAMUEL W. BROWN,
of the U. S. Mint, Philadelphia.

"The seventh edition of the Star Coin Encyclopedia is one of the most elaborate and comprehensive illustrated compendiums that I have ever seen. It is classical in arrangement and distinguished as a ready-reference Numismatic Library."

E. W. LEONARD,
Kansas City.

"Have received the Star Coin Encyclopedia. A hasty glance through this book makes me feel justified in saying that I feel it to be one of the most interesting and comprehensive works on the subject."

WALTER I. DAWKINS,
Attorney at Law, Baltimore.

"The book is very fine and complete. It has never been my pleasure to look through one which could in any way compare with it.'

AUGUST JAEDICKE, JR.,
President, Hanover State Bank.

I could print pages upon pages of similar testimonials, but the best testimonial is the Book itself. It is all and more than I claim for it.

Send order for your copy NOW, before you forget it. You will find enclosed self-addressed envelope to forward it in. You have nothing to lose. If the book does not please you when you receive it, just kindly return it, and I will promptly refund the price paid. Could anything be more fair?

ALWAYS HAPPY TO SERVE YOU.
